Rockwell And Our Real Assets

On last Thursday Rockwell Manufacturing Company was hosts to the newspapermen of this area to both the Bulloch Times, the Herald and to Radio Station WYNS. Actually it was sort of a sneak preview of what would be the Open House on Friday afternoon and evening to follow.

Rockwell, this year celebrates their Fifth Anniversary in our community. They have truly become a part of us. But their importance to the community can not be measured simply in dollars paid out to their employees nor to the community generally. Nor would we lessen the importance of this aspect of their being here. But some times even more important are those intangible assets that can't be placed on an Annual Report. These include active support in all worth-while projects that help build a community; cooperation, leadership and support in all phases of community life. These are the things that count, too.

Good employee relations and a group of men and women who share a pride in the progress of the company make for good community relations.

This is Rockwell. We like them and are proud of them. We're glad that they like us. We want them to grow—with us—as we seek to build a better community together.

On Family Living

One of the amazing facts of modern life is the failure of many people—men, women and even children—to take a personal interest in development of a happy, safe and intelligent family.

Men who are wizards in the business world often make miserable failures as husbands and fathers. Mothers, who are attractive in looks and intelligent in activities, also often fail miserably in making their homes duplicate these attributes. Children who amaze strangers by their good qualities rarely exhibit these virtues when within the family circle.

Let us make it plain that we are not talking about dissolute, profligate or worthless people. We are referring to the people who are considered the backbone of local society and the peace-makers of local affairs in the communities.

Well Done

The information that was made public here last Thursday morning at the mass meeting in the court house came as good news on the local economic scene. Mayor W. A. Bowen in releasing information about the proposed location here of a new substantial and reliable industrial plant revealed results that had come about only after a great deal of tireless and dedicated effort on the part of the mayor's office and those working with him on the committee. They are all to be congratulated. This community is proud of all the businesses—both large and small—that go to make up our town and county. But when new businesses that require major outlays of capital and that bring sizeable payrolls come to move into our community to become citizens along with us—then it is nothing but proper that we "sit up and take notice" and that we properly recognize those who have worked both hard and long at the job of getting them located here. This doesn't come easy.

First, there is always careful investigation and surveys made by both the industry and the com-

That Time Again

A Bit Of History

At the court house, in the first clerk's office, can be seen the first clerk's chair. It has been in this office for many, many years, and before Hattie Powell retired as clerk, she had the chair put in a glass case to preserve it.

This chair is hand made with a cow hide bottom. Its lower rung shows the usage that came its way for it is the chair in which the exact age is not known but it is more than one hundred and fifty years old.

Bulloch County was created from the counties of Screven and Bryan under an Act of the Legislature dated February 8, 1796. Drury Jones, John Mikel and James Bird were appointed the commissioners "for fixing on a proper place to erect a court house and jail." And it was erected that year in the town of Stephens Mills until the public buildings were completed.

On November 7, 1801, George Sibbald of Augusta, Ga., "acting by friendship toward the citizens of said county of Bulloch" conveyed 200 acres for the seat of public buildings. (Book A, Page 85, Clerk's Office Superior Court).

On February 11, 1806, a plat of the "Plan of the Town of Statesboro" made by Joseph Everett, C. S., was recorded in Book A, at Page 110, Clerk's Office Superior Court.

There are no minutes for the first ten years of the county's existence, but the old court records beginning in 1796 and lasting for seventy years is in the clerk's office.

The exact date that the first court house was built is not known, but it is understood that it was a log structure and it would have been built prior to December, 1806. For in the Grand Jury Presentments, dated December 3, 1806, recorded in Minute Book 1806-1824, Bulloch Superior Court, at Page 6, of the following statement is found:

"We, the Grand Jury, for the County of Bulloch, present the following grievances (viz.) This county has sustained considerable damages by the keeper of this court house by making use of the same as a hale room and threshing floor, etc., as we find the benches and tables almost entirely destroyed and not fit for the reception of the courts."

So it is the consensus of opinion that this first judge's chair was built around 1806.

The Simmons & Brown Co. this week disposed of their furniture stock to J. A. Wilson & Co., who have taken possession and will operate a general mercantile line in the near future.

Farmers' outfit sold at public outcry before the court house on Tuesday brought $49.25; included one buggy, 35 cents; hog and hen $12 each, and a wagon $25; "buggy was about out of commission," said the story.

At tomorrow evening's dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce there will be a drawing for an automobile, chance for which are being sold with the dinner tickets.

Prize winning steer displayed by George Thomas Holloway in the fat stock show last week was bought by Rogers store for the top price of $28 per 100 pounds; will be placed on retail sale next week end.

At the Farm Bureau meeting Friday evening in the court house Fred G. Blitch, president of the county organization, will discuss a marketing program for the county. The cotton allotment for the year has been set at 2,885 acres.

Sherriff Lowell Mallard poured out a quantity of shine which had accumulated from recent raids.

In the pouring out was something like forty-five gallons of the brilliant fluid which found its way into the sewers and thence to Rushing's pond.

Director of Information, State Department of Education

By Services McCuller, Honor Student—The honoring of all these STAB Students this April-time made Dr. Claude Purcell, state superintendent of schools, remember what happened once when he was the teacher of fifty-seven students at a one teacher school called View in North Georgia. (He was later the principal at Mud Creek.) He had seven first graders. Eleven years later, when he was county superintendent of schools and handing out the diplomas, he gave one to the honor student. She was one of the little first graders that he had taught at View eleven years before.

Answers On Feed Program

(By Roy Powell, County Agent)

Here are some of the most commonly-asked questions - with answers - about the 1961 feed grain program.

If you want more detailed answers or have additional questions, contact your local Extension Service county agent or County ASC office.

QUESTION: If a farmer reduces corn by 20 percent, gets no pay for it, but puts diverted acres to soybeans for harvest, can he get price support on corn?

ANSWER: No.

QUESTION: Is there any dollar limitation on how much a farmer can be paid for diverting acreage?

ANSWER: No. Not as long as he complies with regulations of the program for his county.

QUESTION: What if I make a mistake in measurement and my diverted acreage turns out to be 19.5 percent—rather than the minimum of 20 percent required?

ANSWER: No. Aid under the ACP or other programs in establishing conserving uses on the diverted acres will not make the farmer ineligible under the feed grain program. If the county ASC committee deems it may approve ACP cost-share on the conservation acres. However, such cost-share assistance is not guaranteed.

QUESTION: Does corn for silage come under the feed grain program?

ANSWER: Yes. But sweet corn doesn't.

Named As Finalist

One senior at Statesboro High School has been named finalist in the 1960-61 National Merit Scholarship Program competition and has been awarded a certificate of Merit.

Principal J. L. Sharpe announced that the following student has received the Certificate which attests to his high academic promise: Robert C. Scruggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Scruggs, Vista Circle Statesboro.

The senior attained finalist status by his distinguished performance on two tests and upon endorsement by his high school. About six-tenths of one per cent of the seniors in each state received this award. Approximately 9,800 students in the 50 states and in the United States territories were honored.

"The Certificate of Merit winners represent our most valuable national resource, our talented youth," said John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. "These exceptionally able students deserve the recognition and encouragement of every citizen concerned with the future of America."

The Merit Scholars, to be announced April 27, 1961, will be selected from each state. They will receive scholarships from the resources of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and from sponsoring business corporations, foundations, associations and individuals. In 1959-60, 115 sponsors participated in the Merit Program.

Merit scholarships are four-year awards, and carry stipends that range from $100 a year to $1500 a year. Each stipend is individually determined on the basis of need. The amount is based upon family resources, summer earnings and college costs, all of which vary for each winner.

Most Merit Scholars are also accompanied by grants to the colleges. Each student chooses his college and course of study. Gaining admission to college is the responsibility of the student.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation was established in 1955 through grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The current program is the sixth that has been conducted. There are 3,132 Merit Scholars enrolled in 391 colleges in the current academic year and 491 Merit Scholars have been graduated.

The seventh program will begin in March when the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test will be given in the participating high schools. More than 15,000 high school participants in the 1960-61 program.

Statesboro High School will administer the tests on Saturday, March 11, 1961. All Juniors should be urged to take this test.

50th Wedding Anniversary

(By Mrs. John A. Robertson)

A lovely affair Sunday afternoon, April 2 was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cromley at their home in Brooklet.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. J. H. Hinton and Mrs. Herbert Kingsley of Statesboro, who introduced them to the receiving line, Mr. and Mrs. Cromley, their daughters, Mrs. J. H. Hinton and Mrs. W. C. Cromley, and their son, William Cromley, Jr., and Mrs. Cromley.

From the receiving line the guests were shown to the dining room by Mrs. John C. Cromley and they were greeted by the dining room hostess, Mrs. Edgar Parrish of Port.

The dining table was covered by a white cut work cloth over a gold cloth and was centered by the lovely wedding cake, surrounded by tulle and orange blossoms, flanked by yellow roses and golden candelabra.

The buffet was centered with an epergne of gold snappagons.

On the serving table the punch bowl was surrounded by fern and orange blossoms, from which Misses Jane and Julia Jeffords of Sylvester, Jenny Jenkins of Savannah and Anne Cromley served gold punch and white cake squares, embossed with gold 50.

Little Carol Cromley passed the dollies to the guests and Mrs. Carl B. Lanier, Mrs. W. L. Hendrix and Mrs. Claude Robertson arranged the refreshments.

From the dining room the guests were ushered by Mrs. Hunter Robertson of Statesboro, to the bridal register, where Mrs. J. W. Robertson, Jr., presided.

Mrs. E. C. Watkins was general hostess during the afternoon. The guest rooms were adorned with arrangements of gold mums, white gladioli, gold roses and ferns in brass containers.

Mrs. Cromley was a lovely "bride" dressed in a mauve lace dress, with a corsage of white gold centered orchid.

Soft recording background music was enjoyed by approximately two hundred guests who called between the hours of 3:00 to 5:00.

1960-61 SCHOOL PROJECT

For the 1960-61 school project the Future Homemakers of America chose to work in cooperation with the Bulloch County Health Department in an effort to have every student at SEB H. S. take a skin test for tuberculosis. The tuberculosis test is an easy, simple way to find out whether or not a person is infected with tuberculosis or has been in contact with the disease.

Mrs. Jewel C. Owens, Public Health Nurse, at the Bulloch County Health Department, and Mrs. J. H. Hinton, advisor for the F.H.A. Chapter, met with W. E. Gear, principal of SEB H. S. and explained the project to him and asked permission to conduct this project at the school. He gave his wholehearted endorsement to this project.

Each teacher in the school was given information about this project so that each one could encourage the students to participate. A member of the F.H.A. visited in the rooms and found

Soil-Water Conservation

(By E. T. "Red" Mullis)

Much farming continues to be an important part of our total soil and water conservation program advanced by the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District. This practice in conjunction with crop rotations, contour cultivation and complete water disposal system makes for proper treatment of most of our Class I, II and III land.

To acquaint our farm equipment dealers with much farming and to assist them in their problems with much farming equipment, a training meeting was held recently at Georgia Southern College, Statesboro, Georgia. The meeting was held in the presence of SCS personnel and others from all over the district were in attendance.

Our local dealers, Bulloch Tractor Co., Hoke S. Brunson Co., M. E. Ginn Co., Standard Tractor Co., and C. H. Howell Co., furnished the necessary planting and cultivating equipment to put on the demonstration and training. Our sincere thanks go to these local people for their splendid cooperation.

Planting corn, soy beans, millet, etc., following graded or combined small grain with a lister type planter and without prior land preparation is an excellent way to reduce expenses and get the crop in early.

THERE ARE SOUND arguments which can be made both for and against President Kennedy's proposal that farmers be allowed to write their own farm programs.

On the pro side there would be the obvious advantage of having farm policies determined by those who are closest to the problems of agriculture and who would be directly affected by their implementation.

Their implementation, however, such a course would make the constitutional question of the delegation by Congress of its authority to make laws and by substituting the negative power of veto over programs so formulated, would make it exceedingly more difficult for Congress to halt controversial steps about which there was no substantial agreement. Present dissatisfaction with the results of similar delegation of authority over trade policy affords a case in point.

IN THIS CASE the broad view would indicate an urgent need to let American crops seek their own price levels in international trade while making up the difference to American farmers by a program of compensatory payments on domestic consumption as contemplated by the Talmadge Farm Plan. A participant in the committee taking a narrow view likely would be reluctant to initiate such action.

This and other examples which could be cited point up the necessity for giving careful, deliberate and objective study to all ramifications of the President's farm recommendation. Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Allen Ellender has promised just such deliberations and, while still committed to his proposal, I certainly intend to enter such a study with an open mind.

Without reflecting in the slightest upon the sincerity of their motives, there is a question as to whether members of all farmer committees could view farm problems in their broadest perspective. For example, one of the most pressing

Dixie Nitrogen Coloring Contest

CONTEST RULES—HOW TO WIN

THIRD Count the number of times the word "DIXIE" appears in this advertisement. Examine the picture carefully and read all the copy for an accurate count. Write your number in the entry blank below.

THAT'S ALL YOU DO...nothing to buy, no coupons to save, no jingles to write...JUST A LOT OF FUN FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY.

HINTS TO HELP YOU WIN

To color the DIXIE Nitrogen Trade Mark accurately...visit your DIXIE Nitrogen dealer and ask him to give you a bag of DIXIE. Or you can copy the trade mark coloring from a special display the DIXIE dealer has at his store. This display read "IT TAKES BOTH". Either the actual bag or the store display will show you how to color the DIXIE Trade Mark.

You can identify the star of the Grand Ole Opry by listening to the Diamond Crystal-Jefferson Island program each Saturday night over WSM in Nashville, Tennessee, or the DIXIE Nitrogen radio announcements on your local station in many areas.

To complete the contest, have the entire family help you count the number of times DIXIE appears in this advertisement. Double check your answer several times. Examine the coloring picture and all copy with care.

CLIP THIS ENTIRE AD AND MAIL TO THE ADDRESS ON THE COUPON. DEADLINE IS SATURDAY MIDNIGHT, MAY 27, 1961.

FARMERS WIN BIGGER PROFITS WITH THE DIXIE NITROGEN FAMILY!

Regardless of the type of nitrogen you prefer, there's a grow powered nitrogen for you and every farmer in Dixie in the Dixie Nitrogen Family. It's a top quality nitrogen family manufactured in an ultra-modern plant deep in the heart of Dixie at Savannah, Georgia: Dixie Ammonium Nitrate (33.5% N), Dixie Ammonium Nitrate Limestone (20.5% N), a full line of Dixie Nitrogen Solutions for direct application and Dixie Ammonia (82% N).

DIXIE NITROGEN IS DOUBLE BARRELED

BARREL 1: Nitrate Nitrogen—the fastest acting nitrogen you can buy to get your crops "on the grow" in the spring.

BARREL 2: Ammonia Nitrogen—keeps those crops "on the grow" through the season to a profit-packed harvest for you.

You'll save money...make more money with the DIXIE Nitrogen Family.
